

2021
Spring news

Dear Friends of Camp Victory,

After much thoughtful discussion, the Nicholas Wolff Foundation has made the incredibly difficult decision to cancel in-person camping at Camp Victory for 2021. We hope that our campers, their families, our volunteers, and our staff know it is with their health and safety at the forefront that we have made this heartbreaking decision.

We know all of you care so deeply about Camp Victory and the Camp Victory community, and will understand that this is a decision that had to be made. We are deeply aware that this decision is very sad news for everyone involved with Camp Victory.....but, especially for our very special campers.

Although we know that we cannot replace all of the joy, fun, and experiences that are part of physically being at camp, we will continue the mission, spirit, enthusiasm and activities of Camp Victory virtually through our Facebook page, Instagram and YouTube. We hope that in some small way this will enable our campers to stay connected and experience the spirit of Camp Victory.

We look forward to the time when we can all be together again.....the Nicholas Wolff Foundation is fully committed to our long-term camping program and we have full intentions of having a wonderful, amazing camping season in 2022!

While it seems impossible to imagine a second summer without the sounds of joy and laughter at Camp, we know that Camp isn't just a place....it's a feeling that lives deep in the heart of every camper, counselor and staff member who ever experienced being part of the Camp Victory community.

Until we can be together again.....we wish you all love, peace, and good health during these difficult times.

The Nicholas Wolff Foundation & the entire Camp Victory staff
